Stephanie D. Jones, DVM

Speaker Sheet

Veterinarian · Entrepreneur · Advocate for the Human-Animal Bond
Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Speaker overview

Stephanie D. Jones, DVM is a veterinarian, entrepreneur, and advocate for the human-animal bond with more than 25 years of experience in companion animal medicine. As co-owner of Animal Hospital of Fort Lauderdale, she has served the South Florida community since 2000, with special interests in soft tissue surgery and reproductive medicine.

Stephanie brings an authoritative yet approachable voice to conversations about veterinary medicine, mentorship, community wellbeing, and leadership through authentic service. Her talks are inspirational but practical, compassionate, and designed to leave audiences with a clearer next step.

Speaking topics

The Human-Animal Bond: A Pathway to Healing

How animals create openings for trust, comfort, responsibility, and belonging — and how communities can build on those connections.

Future Vet Leaders: Breaking Barriers and Creating Opportunity

A candid, encouraging session for aspiring veterinary professionals and educators about mentorship, shadowing, access, and seeing a future in the profession.

Leadership Through Authentic Service

A practical conversation about using expertise, empathy, and consistency to build trust with teams, clients, students, and communities.

Pets Help The Heart Heal: From Connection to Community Impact

The story and mission behind a nonprofit using the human-animal bond to support the social, physical, and emotional wellbeing of historically disadvantaged youth.

Behind the Stethoscope: A Life in Veterinary Medicine

A thoughtful look at the realities, rewards, challenges, and possibilities of a career in veterinary medicine.

Selected credentials

- Co-owner, Animal Hospital of Fort Lauderdale
- Founder, Pets Help The Heart Heal, Inc.
- Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, University of Florida College of Veterinary Medicine
- Bachelor of Science in Animal Science, Texas A&M University
- Mentor to high school and college students pursuing veterinary and related careers
- Advocate for animal welfare, lifelong learning, and veterinary workforce development

Contact

For speaking inquiries, workshops, mentorship conversations, and community partnerships, use the contact form on Stephanie’s website.

Stephanie D. Jones, DVM
Fort Lauderdale, FL